

Dear Community:

Thank you for your continued support. Committed to maintaining the security of blockchain industry, DVP builds a bridge between white hat community and vendors.

Along with the rapid development of the DEFI ecosystem, security incidents occurred frequently, which has seriously affected the security of users' assets. This is why DVP changed the DAPP section into the DEFI section, and added the head DEFI item to the list of first-class vendors. For specific information, please follow the official website update. We welcome all members to take active parts in discovering DEFI-related vulnerabilities, thus protecting users' assets.

In addition, many vendors have no response to the vulnerability report for a long time, which obviously make no contribution to the improvement of the industry's security level. DVP will continue to report vulnerabilities to vendors that cannot be contacted for the time being. At the same time, we will extend the automatic vulnerability confirmation time to 30 days. For vendors who make no response to vulnerability reports three times in succession, DVP will claim the vulnerabilities for them with a 50% standard. Further more, DVP will no longer claim vulnerabilities for vendors who have failed to respond to vulnerability reports for 5 times. Please refer to the appendix for the list of vendors.

Please contact report@dvynet.io if you have any questions.

Thanks again for your support. Let's make it better together!
